

Jonathan J. Feldbruegge, Associate

Feldbruegge@LitchfieldCavo.com

Overview

Jon defends businesses, insurers and individuals in products liability, personal injury and premises liability cases. His practice also includes representing lenders against consumer protection and lender liability claims. Jon values a creative approach to litigation – every case presents a unique set of facts and legal issues. His pragmatic, sometimes outside the box, mentality helps achieve favorable results for clients.

While in law school, Jon clerked at a large plaintiff's personal injury firm. He also clerked at a business litigation firm's foreclosure department. After graduating from law school, Jon worked at a smaller insurance defense firm, handling personal injury and automobile accidents, products liability, premises liability, common carrier, trucking and contract disputes.
